The group is arranged in several rows, with some individuals standing on a raised platform or steps in the background. The children are dressed in early 20th-century attire, including dresses, blouses, and hats. The building behind them has horizontal siding and a large window. The overall tone is formal and organized.

attorney, Judge McDune. Mr. Waggener carried his investigation as far as a consultation with Stokley. He said Stokley wept bitterly and declared he had been faithful to his marriage vows. Stokley told him it was "all an awful mistake." Mr. Waggener, however, has not concluded his investigation.

SHENANDOAH VALLEY MILITIA INSPECTED

EYE OF FARMER FERTILE FIELD

Kansas City, January 12.—The husband, Cecil I. Stokley, a divinity student, twenty-three years old, skipped his theological classes the other morning. His teachers said he did not appear to be in the mood for spiritual study of the Mosiac law and biblical history. Stokley, bride of the vintage of "the month of roses" last spring, is prostrated at the home of an elder brother. The other woman in the case, so far as disclosed, is just as ill. She is in the cast of the alleged love letter that inadvertently dropped from the husband's pocket into the hands of the horrified wife safe in the hands of her attorney, H. L. McCune. It may or may not be the letter that the wife used to divorce suit filed in the wife's name.

Stokley is attending the Kansas City Baptist Theological Seminary at No. 350 Group Avenue, on the Kansas side, at the same time as the other woman, at Turner, Kan. He enrolled in the seminary early in the fall. He and his bride lived in Turner, a suburb.

The Stokleys were married in Durban, Mo., in June. He had previously purchased a home in Grinnell. The acquaintance with "the other woman," the intimacy of which is complained of in the petition, was formed in La Grange although the young woman is now said to be in Kansas City.

The husband is charged with infidelity. Mrs. Stokley in her petition accused her husband of addressing her roughly.

The Rev. P. W. Crannell, president of the seminary and student, said Stokley had not been particularly studious the last month.

Mrs. Stokley is a sister of I. D. Waggoner, president of the Waggoner Paint and Glass Company, No. 303

SILK STOCKING IS HER LARDER

Pittsburgh Woman Uses Queer Recipe- tacle for Her Pantry Supplies.

Pittsburgh, Pa., January 12.—When the high cost of living or because she did not want to be seen carrying bundles on the street caused Mrs. Anna Miller, who said she had been a prominent church worker, to place two pounds of bacon and three eggs in her silk stocking is a subject of inquiry by the police.

She is being held a prisoner under the technical charge of being a suspicious person. She refuses to tell the reason of making a market basket out of her hose.

When the woman attempted to get on a car she was unable to do so owing to the height of the steps and evident fear of breaking the eggs by too much of a strain. After the car had gone the woman walked around the corner of the market house and lifted her dress.

Schendel, a policeman, who had followed her, noted the strange burden, and suspecting all was not right, questioned her. When she haughtily refused to explain Schendel arrested her.

Schendel declared the disfiguring bunch on the woman's leg "did not look natural," and that was why he arrested the woman.

Rockefeller, whose testimony is wanted by the committee of the House of Representatives investigating the so-called "money trust," was examined here this afternoon by Dr. Chappell, chairman of the House committee, to determine whether or not the physical condition of the millionaire is such that he may safely testify.

Following the announcement of the result of the examination was made by Dr. Richardson. He asserted that nothing would be given out regarding it until he had made his report to Representative Pujo, chairman of the investigating committee, and Dr. Walter C. Chappell, Mr. Rockefeller's personal physician, and Percy Rockefeller, the millionaire's son, both of whom came here from New York yesterday to be present at the examination.

Dr. Richardson then made the statement in regard to the examination.

The New York millionaire, whose whereabouts were unknown to the "money trust" committee, arrived in this city here before noon to-day on the steamer Miami from Nassau, New Providence. He was met by his son and Dr. Chappell upon landing and immediately went to a hotel.

Dr. Richardson, Dr. Walter C. Richardson, Mr. Rockefeller refused to see any outside visitors, and declined to make any statement as to his plans in connection with the efforts of the investigating committee to obtain his personal history.

Mr. Rockefeller, according to announcements recently made by his personal physician, Dr. Chappell, is suffering from an affection of the throat, which makes it impossible for him to speak. His condition is such, Dr. Chappell asserted, that the strain at-

The inspectors found all the companies in excellent condition, and they were unstinted in their praise of all the companies and headquarters, except the general condition of Company H. Second Virginia Regiment, at Harrisonburg. That company was found to be in the worse condition. The commanding officer had much difficulty in getting out even a small number of men for the inspectors. He was told that the day could be allowed for the return of all missing property; otherwise, the delinquent members would be expelled from the company. It is not unlikely that the company will be disbanded.

Rev. James C. Graham, D. D. pastor emeritus of the Presbyterian Church in Winchester, now in his eighty-eighth year, had his right leg broken Friday evening in Winchester Memorial Hospital by Dr. William C. McGuffee, assisted by Dr. J. M. Boyd and Dr. W. A. Bell, with a view of affording relief from a disease. In spite of his age and physical infirmities, he met the ordeal with remarkable courage and fortitude, but his condition is still quite serious.

He is one of the best known ministers of the Southern Presbyterian Church, by which he has been for nearly half a century. In the latter part of the century he was pastor of the old Kent Street Presbyterian Church, and when it was converted to the Baptist denomination, he was made pastor emeritus of the Presbyterian Church in Winchester.

He is one of his most intimate friends, being regular in attendance at the Kent Street Church when in the city, and he has always been in the city, and was always entertained at the home of Dr. Graham.

FEDERAL TROOPS ARE VICTORIOUS.

Mexico City, January 12.—Several sharp encounters, in all of which the Mexican Federals were victorious, have been reported to the government from various parts of the State of Guerrero.

Stubbson, with along the west coast, where four towns, Tecapan, Atoyac, Arenal and San Geronimo, are unofficially reported to have been taken by rebels after defeating the Mexican troops. Stubbson, in an official report, however, says Tecapan has been relieved.

Work on the Mexican Pacific Railroad has been abandoned, the seven American engineers proceeding overland to Acapulco, and then by launch 100 miles to Acapulco.

Increased activity is noticeable in the State of Oaxaca, the cutting of the Mexican Southern Railway between the State capital and Puebla isolating the former place now for more than one week. Rebel operations are reported in the State of Durango in a lesser degree in the States of San Luis Potosi, Zacatecas and Michoacan.

The living interest is that aroused in the revival of the operations of General Aguilar along the railroads out of Vera Cruz.

The Aguilar forces have occupied a considerable number of mining towns, human eye is a little blind for growing crops," said Jacob Rose, of Green Township, across the river, well known. Rose made a start in the direction of intensive oats farming, using his right optic for that purpose, but the experiment became a failure. He gave up the farming, moved the seed and left the eye free to exercise again its normal functions.

Rose did not know what was going on until the doctor fetched out the oat kernel, sprout and all. The distress had become more intense about the time the sprout began rummaging around the interior of the eyelid in search of a place where it might pierce through to more nourishing soil.

The seed now has its eyes open. Rose was harvesting oats last summer. It caused him pain at the time, but he could not reach it. After a week or two of half blindness and pain the irritation died away and he forgot about it. The grain is a native of India and has been available and he sought the advice of a doctor.

The House investigating committee, after the statements of Dr. Chappell, determined that the investigation made by a physician appointed by the committee. Dr. Richardson was sent here from Washington for that purpose.

Information as to the length of time Dr. Richardson will stay here, or members of the Rockefeller party, was lacking to-night.

The Echegarria Hacienda, four miles from Puebla, was raided last night by rebels, who were retiring before the advance of the federals from Puebla. A policy of amnesty which has been adopted by many States is attracting much attention. It is semi-officially announced that negotiations are pending between the federals and many of the principal leaders, including Zapata. It is understood that Zapata will be placed in command of a government force if he surrenders.
